

Based on Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration regulations (Part 49 Section 382), employers shall require a bus driver to submit to alcohol and/or controlled substance testing when the employer has a reasonable suspicion to believe that the driver has violated federal alcohol and/or controlled substance prohibitions. This section further requires that persons designated to determine “reasonable suspicion” must receive a minimum of two (2) hours of training in the “physical, behavioral, speech, and performance indicators of probable alcohol misuse and use of controlled substances”.

This Reasonable Suspicion Training fulfills this federal requirement, and is also an excellent refresher.

Our instructor will:

- ✓ Prepare you to assess employee behavior in order to establish reasonable suspicion of drug or alcohol use.
- ✓ Outline the law and regulations associated with driver drug testing.
- ✓ Provide each participant with a certificate of Reasonable Suspicion Training.

Who Should Attend?

School District Administrators, Transportation Supervisors, and any others who are responsible for Controlled Substance and Alcohol Use & Testing.
